ABOUT ME

I specialize in teaching and designing ways of communication. Having worked as an ESL teacher for more than 3 years, I possess strong skills in communication and presenting the information. While working with all kinds of students, I've developed my ability to quickly find the approach to customers' needs and preferences which was helpful in building long-term relationships up until the successful achievement of the goals set. I always built my lessons basing on students' personal interests and issues that needed to be solved.

Have analytical, dedicated, and self-motivated personality.
